Fellow Members,

So far our September and October meetings have had a good turnout and some quality programs. It was interesting to see an alternative to the usual building systems last month with the Build-Block system.

I’m really looking forward to the program for November. Joey Barney from J. B. Moore Electric will be giving a power point presentation on the PCEA’s new web-site, and also on our own Central Virginia Chapter’s web-site. All of PCEA’s chapters will be tied to the Nationals web-site with the same branding and look. There is so much that can be done with new sites, we are only touching on the possible power and uses for the future for our chapters and members.

Don’t forget to plan to attend our Christmas Party at Oakwood on December 15th. We will be playing dirty Santa again, so plan on bringing a man and/or women’s gift with a value of $10 –$15. Guests are welcome.

November Program
Our program for November will be a presentation on the new PCEA website. The national website has been upgraded using the power of software company Wild Appricot. Each chapter also has its own website linked to the nationals that will be controlled and administrated locally. Joey Barney who has been working on the committee at the National level will be demonstrating the website and explaining some of the potential uses for the future. We will also be covering some updates from National, and have some information on the PCEA Convention Cruise leaving from Charleston, S.C., April 29, 2011 for the Bahamas. So bring your significant others, have a tasty adult beverage and relax and unwind with some good fellowship.

Social Sponsors
While enjoying a tasty adult beverage at the meeting, be sure to thank our social sponsors for the evening.

Please take note that our bar bills are covered by our social sponsor’s and we need sponsor’s for each meeting to help defray this cost. This cost is $100 per meeting.

Be sure to invite a guest to any of our meetings. Remember the first time for potential members the meal is free.

Call Alice @ 434-239-2686 or fax at 434-237-7092 to RSVP or email ajones@jbmoore.com so we can get an accurate count for the chef.
